

Clean Culture®

Digestive Aid and Inner Health

- Contains prebiotics
- May support gut health
- May improve nutrient digestion
- May support beneficial intestinal microbes

Why use Clean Culture®?

Digestive disorders are extremely common and may be the result of long periods between feeds, diets with a high grain intake, extended administration of antibiotics, sudden change of feed, vitamin and mineral deficiencies, and in horses who are prone to ulcers.

Clean Culture aims to support the digestive system with natural ingredients including prebiotics and sea minerals. Feed Clean Culture for the recommended 10 days.

Digestive Health Facts

More than half of all horses may experience stomach ulcers and stomach distress at some stage in their life. Horses who have ulcers will often present symptoms such as going off their feed, weight lost, dull coat and can appear nervous or 'hot' and 'girthy'.

Feeding Guidelines

We recommend feeding Clean Culture in the following situations:

- When buying a new horse
- When bringing your horse in from spelling
- During injury recovery
- During times of stress - competition, travel, environment change
- Periodically during season changes

Add to feed twice daily for 10 days as required

Morning feed: 1 x 50ml

About the Ingredients

Liquid sea minerals have been included to support the digestive tract pH.

Chinese liquorice root powder is thought to support mucus membranes through the digestive tract. It contains a substance called Glycyrrhizin, which is believed to offer anti-inflammatory benefits. Chinese liquorice root powder will also support normal acid secretion levels.

Moorlife and fulvic acid both contain a wide range of micro nutrients and trace minerals, and may have antioxidant properties.

Vitamin A is included for its role in supporting the mucus lining within the digestive tract.

Pau d'Arco is a herb sourced from the inner lining of the bark of the Pau d'Arco tree native to South America. It may provide anti-inflammatory properties.

Diamond V XPC is a saccharomyces Cerevisiae yeast based Prebiotic. It is a fermentation product composed of numerous beneficial metabolites. It supports digestive health by maintaining the correct balance of healthy bacteria in the hind gut. It also supports protein, fibre and nutrient digestibility. Diamond V XPC is also thought to support the immune system and provide anti-oxidant benefits.

Suggested Product Combinations

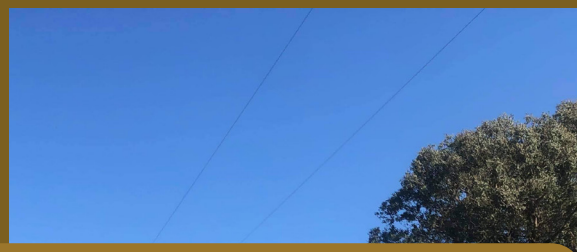

UlcaBuf - An all natural, non medicated, supplement to support long term digestive function. Safe to use in horses with gastric ulcers and hindgut acidosis.

VitaStance - A balanced bio-available vitamin, mineral and amino acid mix for horses and ponies. May boost internal health and support the immune system.

Testimonial

"I purchased Bond who was an extremely risky purchase: He had never scored over 50% in dressage, he always had rails, he had control issues cross country. When I got him I was fairly confident some of his issues were tummy related. He then started to go off his food, his poo became pretty well diarrhea, he lost weight.

A 10 day course of Clean Culture and WHAT a difference. He is waiting at the gate and neighing for his food. He has gained weight. He is so shiny. He licks his bowl clean. He seems much more relaxed and happy in the paddock.

This product is brilliant and I'm so glad I've found it as he is a little stress head so tummy issues will always be part of his management. Thankyou so much!" Asha Warnock
