

Respirite®

Respiratory and Immune Systems

- Oral decongestant
- Helps support normal respiratory function and health
- Enhances the immune response

Why use Respirite®?

Respirite is an oral supplement, which may provide support for issues related to the respiratory, immune and nervous systems.

Respirite may offer decongestant and expectorant benefits to horses experiencing cough, colds or nasal discharge.

One of the most common viruses found in horses is equine herpes 4. The virus may deplete the immune and nervous systems and potentially affect the respiratory system.

About the Ingredients

Echinacea and sea minerals are included in Respirite as they may assist in blood circulation and may help support the immune and nervous systems.

MSM is a supplement which may provide anti-inflammatory benefits and also support the immune system.

Eucalyptus and tea tree oils may provide antiseptic properties.

Eucalyptus oil may have anti-inflammatory, decongestant and antispasmodic properties.

Testimonial

“As a Standardbred owner, I had endured many successive seasons where at times my racing team was adversely impacted by illness. To remain competitive, equine health is essential to remain viable. The cost and frustration of sending the team for a spell and having them worked back to peak racing fitness is significant. Respirite is a product that reinforces the equine immune system to such an extent that periods of sickness have been significantly reduced in severity. My team have now been using Respirite for about 4 years with results that have been very satisfactory. During this period, my team have not been afflicted with a significant illness event. Many participants require the confidence that the ongoing purchase of a product will produce ongoing favorable outcomes to justify purchase. Respirite is one of these products where the results justify continued use.”
